TRIRATNA BUDDHIST COMMUNITY IN BRISTOL

Annual Report 2015

Structure Governance and Management

Governing Document

The Triratna Buddhist Community in Bristol (Bristol Buddhist Centre) was registered with the Charity Commission (No. 900165) on 30 November 1989 under the Charities Act 1960, as a charity whose purpose is the advancement of the Buddhist religion. The Charity is governed by its constitution and is organisationally and financially independent from other groups with the same object.

Appointment of Trustees

The Board of Trustees is appointed at the Annual General Meeting of the Charity. Trustees serve for one year, when they become eligible for re-election. Trustees are fit and proper persons, and members of the Triratna Buddhist Order. They are appointed according to our constitution and appended "policy for Trustee council membership"

Risk Management

The Charity Commission recommends that charities should carry out a risk review to satisfy themselves that all significant risks have been identified and that appropriate management plans are in place. During 2015, the Trustees reviewed and revised the existing risk management plan, taking into account any newly identified risks, and areas where risk is now deemed to be reduced or negligible.

Organisational structure

Trustees meetings are held 6 times a year. The day to day running of the centre is delegated to a team consisting of both salaried and volunteer staff, overseen by the Chair.

Objectives and Activities

The primary object of the Centre is the advancement of the Buddhist religion, in particular by:

- Encouraging members and others to live in accordance with the teachings of the Buddha
- Supporting ordained members of the Triratna Buddhist Community and other duly ordained Buddhists at the discretion of the Council of the Association
- Maintaining close communication with and working under the guidance of the Triratna Buddhist order and in co-operation with other groups with the same objects, and
- Using applications of the Buddha's teaching to promote the health and well-being of all

To achieve these objects, the Charity operates a Centre in Bristol at which a range of classes and courses are provided to introduce members of the public to Buddhism and to help anyone who wishes to deepen their practice of Buddhism to do so. Additionally, the Centre works with schools to inform children about Buddhism.

Achievements and Performance

During 2015, the trustees believe that the Charity managed to achieve the objects set out above to a satisfactory level.

For newcomers:

102 Introductory Meditation drop-in classes, and three taster days.

3 Buddhism & Meditation courses; these are new courses for 2015, providing a systematic introduction to Buddhism for a total of 153 attendees.
1 residential weekend retreat.

For regulars there have been weekly Sangha (friends) drop-in nights attracting 15-40 attendees per week, plus twice weekly sangha meditations, a weekly "Sangha Works!" volunteer morning. Further opportunities to go deeper in Buddhist practice with Bristol Buddhist Centre included monthly full moon pujas and going deeper in meditation classes, celebrations of the main Buddhist festivals, men's days, and numerous other events.

We hired venues for two residential weekend retreats.

For mitras (stated Buddhists practising in Triratna) there were regular Dharma training groups, mornings for women training for ordination, a non-residential "rainy season" week's retreat and a meditation weekend. The Centre also hosted 5 events of a day or longer for members of the Triratna Buddhist Order.

Close communication with the Triratna Buddhist Order is maintained through the Chair and Mitra Convenors attending biannual meetings with their counterparts from throughout Europe, as well as participating in Triratna-wide events. In 2015 we took part in a Triratna International urban retreat. We also took part in Buddhist Action Month, along with Triratna international, and other groups with the same objects.

16 people became Mitras in 2015 and one mitra was ordained. 26 people have indicated they're interested in joining the Order.

Financial Review

Reserves Policy – The Trustees have requested that a sum equivalent to 3 months normal expenditure should be held in reserve. Currently a sum in excess of this is being held, in anticipation of some refurbishment work to be carried out at the centre in due course. Planning permission has been obtained for building an extension, for which detailed costings are in process.

Principal funding source – The Charity is self-funding, and in 2015 introduced a dana (voluntary giving) system, ie no charge is made for classes and events, enabling anyone to benefit from the Buddha's teachings, regardless of means. The Charity has promoted to members the opportunity to support the centre through the use of standing orders and direct debits. This provides the centre with clearer cash flow projection, which in turn enables a more structured programme of development. The centre also offers facilities to other groups for a fee, and rents rooms to complementary therapists.

Investment Policy – The Trustees have considered the most appropriate policy for investing funds and have a deposit account with Triodos Bank, which has strong ethical principles which accord with Buddhist philosophy. Investing with Triodos will allow the Charity a modest amount of capital growth and also enable the charity to withdraw funds at short notice, if necessary, with little or no loss of interest.

Future Plans

Underpinning the objects of the Charity is the aspiration to increase the Buddhist community of which we are a part. To this end the Chair has actively promoted a number of initiatives to develop a true Dharma centre, with activities designed to focus on this overarching objective. This approach has continued throughout 2015 and has been supported and endorsed by the trustees

Statement of Trustees' responsibilities

The trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in [England & Wales/Northern Ireland] requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP 2015 and (FRS 102)
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the trust deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities

Independent Examiner's report to the trustees of Triratna Buddhist Community in Bristol

I report on the accounts of the charity for the year ended 31st December 2015 which are set out on pages 8 to 13

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act;
- follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a "true and fair view" and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- 1 which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Acthave not been met; or
- 2 to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Staff costs represent living allowances paid to those involved in the running of the Charity, tax and national insurance due thereon, and the cost of retreats to enable them to develop their Buddhist practice. Although deemed to be taxable by HMRC, the purpose of the living allowances is to enable those concerned - all of whom are practising Buddhists - to continue with their Buddhist practice at the same time as helping the Charity.

The number in receipt of allowances in the Charity was 8 at the beginning of 2015 and 6 at the end of 2015. (8 in 2014). All staff were based at Bristol Buddhist Centre and apart from the finance manager cannot be easily categorised. All received less than £14,000 p.a.

During the year, one member of the Charity's Council, the Chair (who is a trustee for charity law purposes) was reimbursed expenses totaling £ 280 for costs incurred with respect to travel and accommodation.

The Charity's Rules allow for support - such as the living allowances mentioned above - to be given to members of Council who are members of the Triratna Buddhist Community and during the year the Chair received such allowances totaling £5,000 (2014 - £5,000) in pursuit of its objects. The Charity paid for retreats for two Council members during the year totaling £794.
